

Dear Potential Sponsor,

I would like to share with you how a seven year old boy named Carter Samuel Martin has changed the lives of over a half million people. Carter Samuel Martin was a second grader at Providence Christian Academy in Lilburn, Georgia when his battle with Ewing's Sarcoma ended on September 12, 2004. Carter fought this cancer bravely for 20 months, never giving up hope for a cure. Carter emptied his piggy bank and donated it to the AFLAC Cancer Center in hopes that other children might be cured.

Carter Martin was a prime example of how one person can make a difference. The Martin family is a very precious gift to Providence Christian Academy and our community. Providence has chosen to honor Carter's courageous spirit and the faith of the Martin family by hosting the Carter Martin Classic.

The Fourth Annual Carter Martin Classic will be held on Friday December 7th, 2007 at Providence Christian Academy. The event consists of four basketball games between Providence Christian Academy and another local team hosted at the Providence Gymnasium. All proceeds from the Carter Martin Classic benefit the Carter Samuel Martin Experimental Therapy Research Fund at the AFLAC Cancer Center at Children's Healthcare of Atlanta. Your donations will aid in funding new clinical trials and therapies to bring advanced treatment options to pediatric cancer patients.

Celebrate Carter's life and support our local community by becoming a sponsor for the Carter Martin Classic. Be a part and make a difference in the lives of children and families battling childhood cancer.
